TEACHERS HERE FOR INSTITUTE

Opening Session Held Yesterday Morning.

With Largest Attendance of Any County Institute Ever Held In State—Nearly One Hundred and Fifty Registered First Day—Prof. J. A. Matheson In Charge With Able Assistants—Teachers Who Are Here.

The Guilford County Teachers' Institute convened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the Lindsay Street school building with the largest attendance that has ever been recorded at the opening session of any county institute held in the State. One hundred and forty-nine teachers registered at the opening session and it is believed that the attendance will reach two hundred. The institute will continue for two weeks.

Prof. J. A. Matheson, of the department of pedagogy of the State Normal College, is the institute conductor, being ably assisted by Mrs. J. A. Robinson, of the Durham City schools, and Prof. W. C. Jackson, of this city, who is to teach North Carolina history.

The institute was opened with the singing of several hymns, the music being in charge of Prof. A. S. Hill, director of vocal music at the State Normal College. Rev. Melton Clark led in prayer, following which County Superintendent Thos. R. Foust made a few remarks in which he explained the purpose of the institute and arranged several of the minor details. He then introduced those who will give instruction to the teachers during the two weeks the institute is in session.

Prof. Matheson spoke for a few minutes, laying emphasis on the importance of the teacher knowing the child, in addition to knowing the subject which she is to teach. Mrs. Robinson spoke on the importance of starting right when the child first enters school.

The sessions of the institute will be from 9:30 in the morning to 1:30 in the afternoon, and the regular program will be carried out beginning this morning. Prof. Hill will have charge of the music during the entire session of the institute.

Miss Scheriff is a beautiful young lady and has a host of friends in both Virginia and North Carolina and is known in Greensboro, having visited the Misses Temko. Mr. Oppleman is a progressive young business man of this city, having made his home here for the past five years, and has many friends and wellwishers here.

The young people have been engaged for some time, but the wedding at this time comes as a surprise to their friends who thought that the nuptial ceremony would be performed in Richmond at some date in October.

The marriage was very quiet only members of the immediate families being present, Mrs. Scheriff, of Richmond, mother of the bride; Mr. J. Oppleman, of Lynchburg, father of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Perlin, of Richmond, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Jacob Lovenstein, of Richmond, sister of Mr. Oppleman.

CONVENTION OF N. C. FARMERS

To be Held in Raleigh Tuesday Week.

Session Will Continue For Three Days Large—Number of Farmers From All Parts of State Expected—Rooms Free and Meals Twenty-five Cents Each—Reduced Railroad Fare—Subjects To Be Discussed by Those in Charge.

A large number of farmers from all parts of the state are expected at the Farmers' State Convention, which will be held at the A. & M. College in Raleigh on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Reduced rates can be secured by delegates on the certificate plan. The college will furnish rooms free and meals at 25 cents each. However, delegates should carry towels, a pillow and a light blanket.

The program is full of interest throughout and especially keen will be the interest attaching to the presence of boys who have shown that they "know how" in doing things on the farm; two boys who have made phenomenal records in the raising of corn. The very presence of these junior farmers will be an inspiration, and there will be the most intense interest in the talks which they are to make, for they have made good in the actual work of raising prize winning corn crops.

The boys will tell how they did the work, and with great interest the farmers will hear the talk on "How I Made My Acre of Corn," by Master Charles F. Phillips, of Randolph county, who won the Boys' Corn Club prize last year, making 134 bushels of corn on one acre of land; and Master Lee Blackwell, of Granville county, who weighs 76 pounds, and who made 76 1-2 bushels of corn on one acre of land. It will be well for the boys who can attend the convention to be present when these boys make their talks, and the grown people may also be able to get some good suggestions from them.

On Wednesday and Thursday mornings there will be live stock judging at which experts will point out to the farmers how they can determine easily the worth of an animal. Some of the more important subjects to be discussed at the convention will be the Twentieth Century Farmer; Production and Preservation of Home Fruit Products; Farm Machinery; Why, When, Where, How to Use Lime; Does It Pay to Fertilize; Wealth in Fruit; Ease With Which to Get Rid of Cattle Ticks; Clover Crops; How I Averaged More Than 46 Bushels of Wheat on 50 Acres; Building Up the Dairy Herd; Results of State Demonstration Work; How I Raised my Acre of Corn; The Farmer as a Business Man; Farming Possibilities Resulting From Drainage! Money From Better Methods of Farming; Silos and Silo Building; Live Stock Farming, Keeping Tobacco Soils Fertile; Enriching Land by Stock. In addition to addresses on the above subjects by prominent farmers and experts there will be open discussions after each address.

The Lighting Committee.

The Water & Light Commission and the special committee appointed by the Board of Aldermen to investigate the cost of lighting the city and pumping water and report on the advisability of erecting a municipal lighting plant, met yesterday afternoon and considered the report made by Engineer Guildford and the bid of the North Carolina Public Service Company for lighting the city. After discussing the report for some time the committee adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman. It is likely that at the next meeting a report will be prepared to be submitted to the Board of Aldermen.

Lawn Party Thursday Night.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church will have a lawn party Thursday evening on the lawn at Mrs. R. S. Petty's, 818 Walker avenue. Cream and cake will be served. Benefit of carpet fund. A cordial invitation is extended the public and a good time is promised all who attend.

The Baby Opera is the hit of the season, nothing like it ever seen in our city before. Reserve your seat without extra charge at Farris-Klutz Drug Co. 50c. Wednesday, Aug. 24. 1t

ORPHANS PLEASE LARGE AUDIENCE

Fully Seven Hundred Attended Concert.

In Smith Memorial Building Last Evening—The Program Well Rendered, the Members of the Class Being Applauded to the Encore—Four Boys and Ten Girls In Class—Masons Well Pleased With Patronage Fiven Class.

A large audience greeted the singing class of the Oxford Orphan Asylum in the Smith Memorial building last night, there being fully seven hundred people in the hall. A carefully selected program was exceptionally well rendered and several times the children were compelled to respond to encores. And for an encore they would do or say something that would bring the house down even more than the original piece had done.

The local Masons expressed themselves as well pleased with the patronage and while the proceeds had not been collected the total will be about two hundred dollars. Major W. W. Wood and other Masons who worked vigorously for the success of the occasion were in fine spirits last night over the attendance and the true appreciation of the large and cultured audience.

The class, consisting of ten girls and four boys, arrived yesterday from Pilot Mountain. They will leave this morning for Statesville. The class is in charge of Assistant Superintendent R. L. Brown and Miss Sattie Martin. The members of the class are:

THE BIEDERWOLF MEETING

Representative Laymen Met With Ministerial Association Yesterday To Discuss Ways and Means.

A meeting of the Greensboro Ministerial Association was held yesterday to discuss further arrangements for the Biederwolf meeting next month. In addition to the usual attendance of ministers there were present by invitation representative laymen from the several churches.

The matter of arranging for the meeting of the expenses of the meeting was discussed. It was ascertained that it would be necessary to raise a cash fund of $500 and to have underwritten an additional guarantee fund of $500. This fund of one thousand dollars would pay the expenses of the evangelistic party of five, their transportation and entertainment, but it would not include the expense of the building.

It was decided to meet again Thursday morning at 11 o'clock and hear at that time reports from the churches as to what proportion of the expense of the meeting they will severally bear, meetings of the official bodies of the churches to be held in the meantime.

A nominating committee was appointed to name the committees which Dr. Biederwolf requests shall be appointed. This committee is composed as follows: Rev. Melton Clark, Rev. D. M. Litaker, Rev. Thomas G. Faulkner, Rev. Shuford Peeler, Col. F. P. Hobgood.

CITY SHOULD GET BUSY.

If Sub-Station of Southern Power Company Is To Be Located Here.

Within the next ten days the Southern Power Company will locate the third sub-station along the lines of the company. One of these sub-stations is located at Greenville and the other at Charlotte. The company has an option on a site here, but has not fully decided to locate the plant.

So far they have been offered no inducements to come here and in fact no effort has been made by the city or Chamber of Commerce to have the substation located here. This plant would add no little to the building industry of the city as the cost of one of these sub-stations is estimated at half a million dollars, a good portion of which would be turned loose right here in the city.

Several other cities are working hard to secure this plant and as stated above the Southern Power Company will decide on a site within the next ten days sc if the city wants this plant it should get busy at once. The Telegram is informed that the company is well pleased with Greensboro, but it is almost certain that the company is not going to come here and spend half a million dollars on a building and equipment, let alone the expenses incident in running and caring for the plant after it is erected, unless the citizens show that they appreciate such concerns, and especially is this true when half a dozen other places are clamoring for the plant to be located within their borders.

To Atlantic City.

About one hundred and fifty people will go from Greensboro to Atlantic City tonight on the special excursion that the Southern will operate. Four Pullman cars will be filled with Greensboro people, besides a number from Goldsboro, Raleigh, Durham and other nearby cities. A number of the excursionists intend to take side trips to New York, Niagara and other points of interest. The ticket office will be open this morning for the convenience of those who desire to make Pullman reservations and buy their tickets early in order to avoid the rush that there will be tonight.

Presbyterian Picnic At Battle Ground Wednesday.

The Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church will hold its annual picnic at the Battle Ground next Wednesday. A special train will leave West Market street crossing at 9:30, with baskets well filled with the usual commodities. Wednesday night is the time for the weekly prayer meeting. Instead, a prayer meeting service will be held on the picnic-grounds in the afternoon, just before returning to the city.

MR. J. A. COUCH SHOOTS HIMSELF

Committed Suicide in Richmond Yesterday.

Former Greensboro Citizen Sends Bullet Through His Heart—No Reason Given For Rash Act—Was Well Known Here Where He Had Scores of Friends—Remains to Be Carried to Iredell County For Interment.

Early yesterday morning a wire was received from Richmond by Mr. Sam Shaffer informing him that Mr. James A. Couch, his business partner, had shot himself. The first wire was quickly followed by another telling him that Mr. Couch was dead and asking him to hasten to Richmond on the first train.

Later news from Richmond has it that Mr. Couch opened his place of business, a whiskey shipping establishment, yesterday morning as usual about 6:30, and going to his desk took some time in writing a letter which he addressed to his wife. He then took a pistol, which he kept in his desk, and examined it, seeing that it was in perfect order. Taking the pistol he ascended the steps to the second floor where he had the bottling stablishment of his business and three young men were working. Mr. Couch made some remark to the young men—questioned them if he had not always treated them alright and received an affirmative reply. He then took the pistol and placing it over his heart fired, dying a few minutes after.

Mr. Couch formerly made his home in Greensboro and was part owner in the saloon known as Couch & Shaffer's, which after saloons were voted out, was turned into a pool and billiard parlor, located on the corner of South Elm and East Sycamore streets. He managed the pool room for several years but several months ago went to Richmond and reentered the whiskey business and was one of the largest shippers in Richmond.

Mr. Couch has numerous friends in Greensboro and throughout the state who are at loss to account for his rash act as it was known that he was in good shape financially and that he was not drinking heavily as he was always temperate in his tastes and no reason can be given for his act of self-destruction.

Mr. Couch was born in Iredell county, this state, and was 39 years of age. He is survived by his wife and five little children, two boys and two girls. Mrs. Couch and children were visiting relatives in Independence, Va., when notified of the death and will meet the funeral party at Elkin today.

Mr. Charles Couch, of Richmond, and Dr. V. F. Couch, of Jennings, N. C., brothers of the deceased, arrived in the city last night and will join the party accompanying the remains which will arrive on Southern train No. 7 at 12:45 today. The funeral and interment will take place tomorrow at Zion church, Iredell county, the church of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Couch.

"Jim" Couch as he was familiarly known was always a hearty and good fellow to everyone he met and was of the most charitable disposition. He had hundreds of friends in Greensboro and in Charlotte, where he had also lived, all of whom are shocked beyond expression at the news of his death.

He was a member of the Winston-Salem Aerie of Fraternal Order of Eagles.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. HE GREETED THE CZAR.

Experience of Nicholas II. With a Parisian Street Arab.

On one of his visits to Paris Nicholas II. was left alone for a moment in his carriage. The czar was delighted at the feeling of freedom and ease. Looking out of the window with all the zest of a schoolboy playing truant, he saw before him one of those picturesque street arabs who seem to sprout between the paving stones of Paris. This particular specimen, seated against the railings, with his nose in the air, was whistling the refrain of the Russian national hymn. Suddenly their eyes met. The street boy sprang to his feet. He had never seen the emperor, but he had seen his photograph, and the likeness was striking.

"Suppose it is Nicholas?" he said to himself, greatly puzzled.

He resolved to make sure without delay. Walking up to within a yard of the carriage and bobbing his head, he shouted in a hoarse voice to the unknown foreigner:

"How's the empress?"

"Thank you, the empress is very well and is delighted with her journey."

The boy lost his tongue. He stared at the speaker in dismay and then, raising his cap, stalked away slowly, very slowly, to mark his dignity.

Nicholas II. afterward often amused himself by scandalizing the formal set around him with the story of this private interview with a true Parisian.—McClure's Magazine.

A SERIOUS PLAY.

The Author Was Willing, Though, to Turn It Into a Comedy.

The gallery god, no less than the patron of the padded chair, aspires to write for the stage. I have a vivid remembrance of the first of all the plays submitted for production at the New theater in New York. It was from an employee in a local railroad station, probably a baggage smasher, and I shall betray no confidence in recording that the author's name was Murphy.

Though Mr. Murphy called his work a play, it was in reality only a scenario. It was entitled "Jim's Wife." The plot was as follows: In the first act Jim had no wife, but he took his girl to a dance. Action—They danced. In act second came the "great scene." The scene was caused by the fact that Jim's girl danced with another man. Jim felt impelled to kill him, but he refrained, reflecting that such things did not occur in the best circles and would thus be socially unpleasing to his lady. The curtain fell on his act of self sacrifice in not killing the other dancer. In act third there was still more action. Jim's girl rewarded him for his delicacy by marrying him. Final curtain.

Mr. Murphy seemed weighed down by a fear that his play was too serious for the New theater. In his letter he said: "If you would rather have it a comedy I will send you the jokes. I have a few jokes too."—John Corbin in World's Work.

Heels to Match Walk.

"In every theater audience there are critical persons who are prolific with suggestions for making the play more realistic," said a stage manager. "Some of these hints are worth considering too. In one play that was staged not long ago the biggest hit was made by a character actress who had to wear down-at-the-heel shoes. On the third day of the New York run I received a letter from a shoemaker, who called my attention to the fact that the woman's gait and her shoes did not match. Her heels were run down on the outside, whereas the walk she assumed on the stage must inevitably cause her shoes to run over on the inside. That was a point that had escaped the notice of everybody in the company. Upon looking into the matter we found plenty of evidence to uphold our critic, and we secured a pair of property shoes with heels worn away on the inside."—New York Press.

SHARK PRODUCTS.

Even the Bones Are Useful, the Spine as a Walking Stick.

Products obtained from the shark are both numerous and valuable. Shark fins furnish a jelly that makes a delicious soup, if one may credit the statements of those affecting that delicacy. There is an excellent market for this jelly wherever Chinese are to be found.

The shark's liver gives a splendid clear oil excellently adapted for the lubrication of the parts of watches, clocks and fine guns. This oil is held in some quarters in as high esteem as is the oil obtained from porpoise and dogfish liver, long claimed to be the finest of animal oils.

Sharkskin is of much value. It is of a beautiful burnished gray or bluish color and at first glance looks like finely grained leather by reason of the tiny prickles plentifully set one way. There are so many of these prickles, quite invisible to the naked eye, that the effect afforded by the dried skin is one of rich beauty, a quality that makes it particularly valuable for the manufacture of shagreen. It is employed for many decorative purposes.

Even the bones of sharks are useful. The spine is in constant demand by the manufacturers of curious walking sticks. They pass a thin malacca or steel rod through the polished and round vertebrae, and the result is a cane that sells for a high price. The shark spine stick is a great favorite in Germany.—Harper's Weekly.

BULL BAITING.

A Brutal "Sport" That Was Popular In Former Days.

The principle of bull baiting was extremely simple. A collar was fastened round the bull's neck, and by this the bull was attached by a rope to a stake. The rope varied from nine to fifteen feet in length and therefore allowed the bull but little movement. The audience was accommodated in a circle or "ring."

The bulldog's duty was to grasp the bull's nose, and when he had succeeded in obtaining a grip he was required to maintain his hold, despite the efforts of the larger animal to dislodge him. The bull awaited the attack with lowered horns, which the dog sought to evade by crouching toward the head of his opponent. Sometimes the bull managed to get his horns under or into the dog, which was then thrown high into the air.

Writers state that dogs had been tossed up to a height of thirty or forty feet. The dog, if he survived, would "retire hurt." On the other hand, once the dog, which was trained to grip only the nose, obtained a hold his adversary would have little chance of shaking him off. The bull would whirl the dog in the air and struggle frantically to wrench his nose free from the terrible grip. When, from sheer exhaustion, the dog dropped clear of the bull a fresh dog was sent into the ring.

Photographing a Panther.

A panther is not easily killed and will often revive with very unpleasant results, as on a certain occasion in the Deccan. He appeared to be quite dead, and one of the spectators rushed up with a camera on a stand to obtain a picture of the supreme moment. He got his photograph, and, strange to say, it survived what followed, but no sooner had he taken it than the panther revived, tore himself loose and went for the photographer. Somehow the man escaped, but the camera was sent flying, and, disconcerted by his encounter with it, the panther turned and made for the nearest tree, up which he went as quickly as a monkey. Now, the tree was crowded with interested spectators, and for three or four strenuous seconds (until the panther was shot) we enjoyed a spectacle of natives dropping to earth with loud thuds like ripe plums from a jungle plum tree as the panther approached them.—Wide World Magazine.

His Glimpse of War

By R. W. KEENAN

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

In 1870, having been just graduated from college, I went abroad to see something of the world before settling to my life work. There was a great deal to see at that time—namely, one of the biggest wars of modern times. The Germans under Von Moltke were marching across the French border. Landing at Cherbourg, I went directly to Paris and, taking letters from the American minister, set out for the front to get a glimpse of war. Having been ten years too late in my birth to take part in our own great struggle in America, I was extremely desirous to witness a similar contest between the French and the Germans.

I was received kindly at the headquarters of Marshal MacMahon, but there were few great battles, and the two nations did not seem disposed to fight one for the benefit of a young American who had come across an ocean to see "the fun." So after remaining for a time with the French I determined to join the Germans. I realized that passing from one army to its opposing one during actual war was a serious business, but I had heard so much of the thrilling episodes of war from friends who had fought in the American contest that my young blood was fired to participate in a similar affair. So, selecting a point between the lines where the French had no outposts, I left them and, walking down a road, was taken in by a Prussian vedette.

This was rather a tame adventure, and I was on the lookout for something more exciting. Though I was not aware of it, something more exciting was on the lookout for me.

I presented my credentials, which were my passport and my letters to the French commanders. I had struck the troops under General Manteufel, and it was at his headquarters that the documents were examined. I was treated with the utmost civility by the officers of his staff. Indeed, I could not but contrast the attention I received with that of the French officers, who upon the statement of the American minister, vouching for me, permitted me to go pretty much where I pleased, but paid little heed to me. The Prussians showered me with attentions, but I was not permitted to go about at all. Indeed, excuses were made to keep me at headquarters.

One evening General Manteufel's chief of staff gave a dinner at which were several ladies. I was the guest of honor and was seated beside a very beautiful woman who spoke English with a broken accent. I was young and correspondingly susceptible; therefore it is not surprising that before the evening was spent I had fallen under a spell which, had I been older, I might have seen was purposely thrown over me. Before the party broke up I and this lady were left alone together. Suddenly her manner changed from lightness to intense seriousness.

"I am being watched," she said.

"Watched?"

"Yes; they know my mission."

"What mission?"

"I saw you at MacMahon's headquarters. I was receiving my instructions while you were there. Save me!"

"How?"

"They know that MacMahon has sent some one into their lines for information. If you take the risk for a time I will go free. If suspected you can prove that you are an American and will not suffer. I cannot prove that I am not a Frenchwoman. Here is the information I bear. Take it. If they find it on me I die. Keep it for me till the danger is past, then give it to me."

She thrust a little roll of tissue paper upon me. At the moment she did so a Prussian officer entered, and I had no opportunity to hand it back without being seen. To do so would be equivalent to informing the officer that she was a spy.

But if found with the paper in my possession I would be shot.

From that moment I was not for a second free from observation. When we were about to depart the chief of staff came to me and said:

"We move at 2 o'clock. The general will have no one except soldiers with us. We have kept you at headquarters for your own good. You have seen nothing; therefore you may go back whence you came."

Without waiting for a reply he conducted me to the picket line. Glad to go free with the lovely spy's pellet, I walked hastily away. I was followed and arrested. Taken back to General Manteufel's headquarters, I was searched and the paper found on me.

As I was being led away I passed the lady who had given me the paper. The officers were apologizing to her for something, and I heard them tell her her carriage was waiting for her.

I was kept under guard till morning, when an officer came hurrying toward me. As soon as he reached me he said angrily, "You are a fool!"

"I am at any rate not a spy."

"No; the real spy has gone. We learned that some one was among us and suspected two persons who came in at the same time—this woman and yourself. As soon as the woman had gone beyond our reach she sent us proof that she was in MacMahon's service and had duped you. You will depart for our rear at once."

I had had all of war I wanted and went.

Japan has swallowed Korea, and the fact will be evidence to the jingoes in this country that the yellow peril is more threatening than ever.

Col. Roosevelt denies that he has sent an ultimatum to Taft. Oh, well, the Roosevelt behavior is as good as an ultimatum.

Owing to the law of gravitation, the sport of aviation continues to have its risks. A lieutenant in the Italian army fell from his aeroplane Saturday and was killed.

Republican candidates for Congress are seeking to gain votes by declaring against Mr. Cannon for the Speakership. Who knows that we shall not have a declaration of that kind from the Fifth?

Lincoln Steffens says in Everybody's Magazine that J. Pierpont Morgan is the boss of the United States. Lots of people have been attributing that distinction to Nelson W. Aldrich.

It seems to have been demonstrated that Vice President Sherman did not benefit from those Indian contracts, but it hasn't been proved yet that he didn't electioneer for himself in connection with the temporary chairmanship of the New York Republican State convention.

John Hays Hammond has come to the rescue of President Taft. He says Taft is one of the greatest executives the country has ever had. Mr. Hammond is a good mining engineer and he is a protege of the Guggenheims whose exploitation of Alaska has not been interfered with by the Taft administration. We feel pretty sure, in fact, that Mr. Taft has his faults, for Col. Lusk, of the Republican State Convention, has said as much and he ought to know.

Franklin Clarkin writes an interesting article for Everybody's on the subject, "Tariff Fortunes and Evasions." He finds that the beneficiaries of the tariff are the very ones who try to evade the tariff duties. He tells of the family of an iron ore magnate (iron ore, pig iron and iron manufactures are all protected) coming home from Europe with quantities of dutiable stuff concealed from the customs officials. It would seem that if anybody could afford to pay the tariff it would be those whom the tariff has enriched beyond the dreams of avarice.

The Textile Department of the A. & M. College at Raleigh appears to be doing a very successful work. Some statistics lately gathered show that students of that department are quickly employed and at good salaries, the average salary being $1293 per annum. These students are employed as superintendents, overseers, second hands, machinery salesmen, draftsmen, chemists, overseers of dyeing, etc. The practical training that the students get at the A. & M. College enables them to take at once positions of importance at lucrative pay.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch says:

Morehead has withdrawn from the race for Congress in North Carolina. This ought to mean the unanimous election of Major Charles M. Stedman. Nothing ever so became Morehead as his getting out of this race, and everybody in North Carolina ought to thank him for it. It is hoped now that he will vote for Stedman and do all he can to elect him. That would be the highest tribute he could pay to one of the best men in the State.

It occurs to us that the Times-Dispatch is a little befuddled. In fact it has hardly anything right in the above quoted paragraph except that Morehead ought to vote for Stedman and that the latter is one of the best men in the State. Morehead hasn't withdrawn from the race for Congress. Whatever it is he has done, it couldn't possibly mean the unanimous vote of the district for Major Stedman. Evidently the Richmond paper was under the impression that Morehead is a Democrat and was contesting the nomination with Major Stedman. While Major Stedman will not be elected unanimously we feel safe in assuring the Times-Dispatch that he will be elected decisively.

Mr. Wrenn Pearce left last night for Chattanooga, Tenn. From that point he will go to Houston, Texas.

A SAMOAN FISHING BEE.

Trapping the Game With a Leaf Chain Half a Mile Long.

A Samoan fishing bee is a unique sight to witness. Cocoanut leaves are gathered in abundance and secured, doubled and tripled, end to end, to form a long prickly chain, round in appearance and about three feet in diameter. These leaf chains are often woven to a length of half a mile. When the chain is complete all the men of that particular village turn out en masse with their "paopaos," or Samoan canoes.

When the tide is high the chain is stretched across some convenient place, supported by natives in their paopaos or simply wading where the shallowness will permit. The cocoanut seine is then submerged and slowly forced shoreward, the prickly points driving the fish before them. When the point is reached where the chain can rest upon the bottom and still protrude slightly from the water the natives after securing the ends to the beach retire and wait for the tide to recede, leaving the fish high and dry.

It is often found that large fish are driven and caught in this manner but since they are capable of jumping the barrier they are dispatched with spears at once. The catches of fish thus made are sometimes enormous and often number thousands.—Los Angeles Times.

The Flag of Denmark.

In the year 1219 King Waldemar of Denmark, when leading his troops to battle against the Livonians, saw, or thought he saw, a bright light in the form of a cross in the sky. He held this appearance to be a promise of divine aid and pressed forward to victory. From this time he had the cross placed on the flag of his country and called it the Dannebrog—that is, the strength of Denmark. Aside from legend there is no doubt that this flag with the cross was adopted by Denmark in the thirteenth century and that at about the same date an order, known as the order of Dannebrog, was instituted, to which only soldiers and sailors who were distinguished for courage were allowed to belong. The flag of Denmark, a plain red banner bearing on it a white cross, is the oldest flag now in existence. For 300 years both Norway and Sweden were united with Denmark under this flag —Housekeeper.

Handel as a Child.

George Frederick Handel, the son of a Saxon barber and valet, was only five years old when his "fingers wooed divine melodies" from the spinet, which a good natured aunt had smuggled for him into an attic, so that no sound of it might reach the ears of his father. At eight his playing so astonished the elector of Saxony that his father was compelled to withdraw his opposition and allow the genius of the boy to have fair play. And before he had reached his twelfth birthday young Handel was known throughout Germany as a brilliant composer and virtuoso at the court of the emperor.

THE BLACK HAND.

Origin of the Name of This Group of Daring Criminals.

According to the United States secret service, the Black Hand is a title common to innumerable groups of criminals operating under the direction of some secret central government. These men are blackmailers, using murder, arson, kidnaping and bomb throwing as punishments for those who will not submit to their iniquitous demands. Black Hand is, in short, a handy name for a brand of crime peculiar to Italian criminals who are successful in it because of the temperament of the foreign immigrants and their inborn dread of the extortionist. Whether the central government which guides the Black Hand society is located in the United States or in Italy is something which neither the Italian nor American authorities can discover. United States officers say the name of the American Black Hand emanated from Chicago about ten years ago, when one of the first of many mysterious murders in the Italian quarter remained unsolved. The victim of the murder had received a warning that death would follow his failure to contribute a specified sum of money. The letter was embellished with a crude drawing representing a fist clutching a dagger. The fist and dagger gave the name Black Hand—later to become unpleasantly familiar to every citizen of the country—and the sinister sketch was soon a source of terror to all law abiding Italians.—Wide World Magazine.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Misses Fairy Fraley and Fannie Burke will leave this morning for a ten days' stay in Selden, Va., and from there will go to Norfolk for a visit.

Mrs. D. C. Williamson, of Fayetteville, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Joe Goodman, on North Elm street, has returned to her home.

Mrs. Hall T. McGee, of Charleston, S. C., who has been visiting Mrs. J. K. Wheeler and family left last night for Winston to visit relatives.

Mr. Grady Coble returned yesterday from a short trip to Danville.

Mrs. M. E. Small returned yesterday from Asheville where she has been visiting for about three weeks.

Miss Lillian Johnson, who has been visiting Miss Nan Wood, left yesterday for High Point to visit friends for a week.

MUNICIPAL COURT.

Judge F. P. Hobgood Presides Over Brief Session—Only Three Cases.

Judge Eure being out of the city, Colonel F. P. Hobgood, judge pro-tem, dispensed justice at a short session of the Municipal Court yesterday morning.

There were only three cases after a very unusually quiet Saturday night and Sunday and two of them were held overs from last week.

An aged white man who has been an habitual offender for drinkness, according to Chief Neelley, for the last fifty years was charged the cost for his failing.

Will Byrd was before his honor in answer to charge of assault with a deadly weapon on "Hoppergrass" Nelson. The evidence brought caused the warrant to be changed to an affray, Byrd being taxed $2.50 and half the costs and the complainant, "Hoppergrass", having half of the costs charged against him. Both were negroes.

Robert Alexander, charged with breaking into the shoe shop on M. Lefkowitz and stealing shoes was brought back from Winston Sunday night and up for trial. His case was postponed until this morning at the request of his attorney, Mr. Stern. Alexander is a negro that has been in trouble before, once running a fake pressing club in the city, collecting all the clothes that he could for cleaning and pressing, selling them and decamping with the proceeds. While no one knew his name after his last escapade his description was given to Officer Causey who recognized his descirption at once and knew where to locate him. Officer Causey has a wonderful method of remembering the negro wrongdoers and is probably the best sleuth in bringing colored criminals to justice in the State.

PICNIC AT WHITSETT.

Will Be Held Saturday, September 3—No Clew to Postoffice Robbery—Local Items.

Whitsett, Aug. 22.—There is not any clew yet as to the robbery of the postoffice here on last Tuesday night. Fortunately but a small amount of money was in the office and the loss was not very great, but it is to be hoped that the guilty may yet be apprehended.

Little Miss Brownie Davis is again a welcome visitor. She will leave in a short while with her father for the return trip to her home in Indiana.

Some of our young ladies have organized a riding club and may be seen every fair afternoon engaging in this delightful exercise. To be a good horseback rider is quite an accomplishment, and we wish them all success.

Rev. J. D. Andrew preached here Sunday at the Reformed church.

Rev. Clarence Wood, a native of this county, has been for the past week assisting Rev. J. D. Andrew in a meeting at St. Marks church.

Messrs. R. G. Troxler and C. M. Whiteley, of the Alamance church neighborhood, were pleasant visitors on last Saturday.

School opens Aug. 31 and everything is looking forward to that time. Our place will take on new life for the year then.

Whitsett and Alamance played a good game of ball Saturday on the grounds of the Alamance team. Score 2 to 3 in favor of the Alamance boys. Quite a number attended the game.

The program of the picnic to be held here Saturday, 3, will be given in next week's paper. Your presence is desired, and it will be a day of pleasure and profit for all.

Hanner-Hanner.

Yesterday afternoon in the office of Justice D. H. Collins, who officiated, Mr. Robert Hanner and Mrs. Elsie Hanner were united in the bonds of matrimony. Only close relatives witnessed the ceremony.

BALL ENTHUSIASTS START MOVEMENT

To Secure Fifteen Hundred Subscribers To Benefit Games—Statement Issued by Nucleus—One Hundred Taken—How the Games Went Yesterday.

Realizing the needs of the local baseball association in their efforts to give the people of Greensboro good, clean sport, and knowing that there is a large deficiency to be made good by the gentlemen who came to the rescue of the club at a time when things looked gloomy, the following plan is suggested in order to assist these true sports in carrying this burden.

That the last four games of the season, August 29, 30, 31 and Sept. 1, be designated as "Citizens' Benefit Games," and that the baseball lovers of Greensboro subscribe to 1,500 tickets at $1.00 each, said tickets to be good at any one of the four benefit games, gate and grandstand, and to this end the undersigned, heartily approving and endorsing this plan, subscribe to the number of tickets opposite their respective names.

We would suggest that the list of subscribers be published in the city daily papers, beginning with the issues of Thursday, 25th inst.

Those wishing to subscribe will please leave their names with E. W. Stewart, secretary of the association, or with any of the undersigned.

AMUSEMENTS

Tonight Manager Gus Hill sends his highly enjoyable spectacular farce, "McFadden's Flats" to the Grand with an entirely newly-written book, up to date, tuneful music and numerous cleverly throughout ensemble arrangements and specialties that serve to introduce a bevy of spirited young ladies elaborately costumed and plenty to do besides look pretty. The principals this year have been selected with great care and each one is cast in a part particularly suited to his or her particular ability; there are numerous features made up of bright and original ideas and the many infusions and changes made it necessary to add a new equipment, as far as scenery was concerned, and the new "McFadden's Flats," as before, will be found among the foremost farce comedy productions of the season. The company is far superior to any appearing in this style of entertainment, and numbers in its ensemble some thirty-five people. The performance goes with a new dash and is just the caper to make one forget his or her troubles. "McFadden's Flats" will be seen in its new dress at the Grand tonight.

COME AND DINE WITH US TODAY. PROMPT SERVICE AND ALL THE SEASON'S DELICACIES ARE ON OUR MENU.

A LAND OF LEISURE.

The People of Guatemala Like to Take Things Easy.

Just as Spain is the land of "manana," Guatemala has been called the land of "no hay." These words mean "there is none," and one hears them wherever one goes. If the people do not want to bother, declares N. O. Winter in "Guatemala and Her People of Today," that will be their invariable answer.

You might go up to a house where the yard was full of chickens, the woman engaged in making tortillas and fruit trees loaded with fruit in the yard and yet have a conversation about like the following:

"Have you any meat?"

"No hay" (pronounced eye).

"Have you any eggs?"

"No hay."

"Have you a house?"

"No hay."

In such a case the best way to do is to enter the house and hunt round for yourself and blandly order the woman to prepare whatever you chance to find. Then, if you leave a small sum of money with her on departing, she will not take any offense, but will politely thank you.

Time is the only thing with which they seem to be well supplied. It is equally hard to get anything done, for unless the party is willing to do the work requested he will find some plausible excuse. An American traveling across the country a few years ago found it necessary to have his horse shod at one of the small towns. There were three blacksmiths in the town. Of these one was sick, but had supplies, a second had no nails and the third no charcoal. As there was no lending among the craft the horse could not be shod.

A MEXICAN FIRE BRIGADE.

Leisurely Way They Fight the Flames at Matamoras.

It might be thought that such an exciting thing as a fire would startle the Mexicans out of their habitual indolence, but such is not the case.

The alarm of a fire at Matamoras, Coahuila, Mexico, was given by the discharge of numerous pistols and guns, says a writer in the Wide World Magazine, and I hastened to the scene, thinking at first that a battle was raging.

After a long interval, during which the people watched the fire with interest, chattering among themselves meanwhile, there appeared placidly trundling along the road the Matamorasan equivalent of a fire engine, a barrell rolling along the ground, drawn by a reluctant burro.

A swivel pin in each end of the keg permitted it to roll freely, and ropes attached it to the animal. Behind walked the fire brigade, a solitary peon, bearing a bucket. Arrived at the scene of the conflagration, the water in the barrel was poured into buckets and hauled to the roof of an adjacent house, whence it was flung on to the flames.

Everybody was greatly excited. The calmest thing of all was the fire, which burned steadily on till there was nothing left to consume. Then as the spectacle was over the people dispersed. Every one was satisfied except perhaps the unfortunate owner of the house that had been destroyed.

Insect Sits on Its Eggs.

Family matters in the case of insects usually mean only the depositing of eggs in suitable situations for the independent development of the offspring, the parent insects often dying before the young appear. The earwig, however, provides a remarkable exception to the general rule, for it sits upon its fifty or more eggs until they are hatched, just as a bird would do, and, moreover, if the eggs get scattered it carefully collects them together again. In the early months of the year, when digging the soil, female earwigs may frequently be found together with their batch of eggs. At the slightest sign of danger the young ones huddle close to their mother, hiding beneath her body so far as it will cover so large a family.—Strand Magazine.

Social Distinctions.

Are we born snobs, do we achieve snobbishness, or do we have snobbishness thrust upon us? If we achieve it we sometimes do it early. The other day I heard Beatrice, a little nine-year-old, expounding to a visitor of about her own age.

"No," said Beatrice impressively, "we don't play with Sarah any more. We found out that her father has only a first name job. Our papa, you know, holds a mister position."—Woman's Home Companion.

An Effective Threat.

A certain Missouri editor is ready to take a flier in high finance. He got his schooling by threatening to publish the name of the young man seen with his sweetheart's head on his shoulder if he didn't come across with a dollar on subscription. Fifty-seven young fellows slipped in and paid a dollar. The editor says he has letters from several others informing him they will hand him a dollar the next time they are in town.—Kansas City Star.

Losing Their Charm.

Vicar's Daughter—I suppose the rain kept you from the funeral last Tuesday, Mrs. Blogg? Mrs. Blogg—Well, partly, miss; but, to speak true, wot with the rheumatiz and doin' away with the 'am and the cake afterwards, funerals ain't the jaunts they used to be for me!—London Opinion.

The change of fashions is the tax that the industry of the poor levies on the vanity of the rich.—Chamfort.

The Best Hour of Life

is when you do some great deed or discover some wonderful fact. This hour came to J. R. Pitt, of Rocky Mt., N. C. when he was suffering intensely, as he says, "from the worst cold I ever had, I then proved to my great satisfaction, what a wonderful Cold and Cough cure Dr. King's New Discovery is. For, after taking one bottle, I was entirely cured, You can't say anything too good of a medicine like that." Its the surest and best remedy for diseased lungs, Hemorrhages, LaGrippe, Asthma, Hay Fever—any Throat or Lung Trouble. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

The Bright Side.

"What do you think of the candidates?" asked one elector of another.

"What do I think of them?" was the reply.

"Well, when I look at them I'm thankful only one of them can get in."—London Spare Moments.

Acute or Chronic—Which?

No matter if your kidney trouble is acute or chronic Foley's Remedy will reach your case. Mr. Claude Brown, Reynoldsville, Ill., writes us that he suffered many months with kidney complaint which baffled all treatment. At last he tried Foley's Kidney Remedy and a few large bottles effected a complete cure. He says: "It has been of inestimable value to me." Holton Drug Co.

Asphyxiation is certainly a ghas-tly death.

Struck a Rich Mine.

S. W. Bends, of Coal City, Ala., says he struck a perfect mine of health in Dr. King's New Life Pills for they cured him of Liver and Kidney Trouble after 12 years of suffering. They are the best pills on earth for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia, Debility. 25c at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Bad Breath

"For months I had great trouble with my stomach and used all kinds of medicines. My tongue has been actually as green as grass, my breath having a bad odor. Two weeks ago a friend recommended Cascarets and after using them I can willingly and cheerfully say that they have entirely cured me. I therefore let you know that I shall recommend them to any one suffering from such troubles."—Chas. H. Halbern, 114 E. 7th St., New York, N. Y.

NO DRESS SUIT RULE AT NEW CAFE DE L'OPERA

'Clean Collar and Tie' the Passport Say Incorporators of Enterprise to Replace Old One.

New York World.

By the incorporation yesterday of a company capitalized at $600,000 and headed by William S. Leeds, the Pittsburg steel man of millions, it is planned to open not later than Oct. 15 the Cafe de l'Opera at Forty-second street and Broadway.

The former management failed some weeks ago to make the great profits prophesied by M. Henri Prueger of London, whose first hard and fast rule was that no ons should be admitted for dinner not in evening dress. The new management promises that any one fully clothed and "wearing a collar and tie" shall enjoy the privileges of the restaurant, providing, of course, he has the price.

The name of the restaurant is to be changed, but to what has not been decided. The new corporation is known as "Rich's." The officers are: William S. Leeds, Pdesident; C. C. Lage, of the Distillers' Company of America, Vice-President; F. J. Myers, of J. J. Hilliard & Co., Secretary, and Walter J. Rich, Treasurer.

With these as directors are Leonard Desser of the banking house of Charles M, Minzensheimer & Co.; E. E. Rich, of Salisbury and Goodwin, and Milton S. Guiterman, a lawyer, of No. 42 Broadway.

A twenty-one year lease of the building has been secured from Henry Phipps, of Pittsburg. By satisfying a $350,000 chattel mortgage held by Stern Bros, the new company has secured title to all the furnishings.

Work of remodelling will be begun at once. The chief changes will be the installation of a bar on the Broadway side and the removal of the kitchen from the top floor to the basement. This last was said to have been one of the reasons for the failure of the Prueger-Murray Company, as the foods got cold in the serving.

Mr. Guiterman said last night that a surprise was in store in the way of the new management. He refused to say who would be in active charge. He added that the new cafe would be opened with none of the restrictions of the former owners. The property is valued at $1,250,000.

Not Up to Specifications.

"Have you anything to say?" hoarsely demanded the leader.

The victim coolly surveyed the crowd.

"I have always been led to believe," he remarked, "that an Alabama lynching is invariably in charge of the best citizens of the place. But if these are your best citizens, then all I've got to say is that society here must be inexcusably punk."

Struck by the force of his reasoning the chagrined mob released the fellow and slunk away.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

They Have a Definite Purpose.

Foley's Kidney Pills give quick relief in cases of kidney and bladder ailments. Mrs. Rose Glaser, Terre Haute, Ind., tells the result in her case. "After suffering for many years from a serious case of kidney trouble and spending much money for so called cures, I found Foley Kidney Pills the only medicine that gave me a permanent cure. I am again able to be up and attend to my work. I shall never hesitate to recommend them." Holton Drug Co.

Wigg—"The best outing a man can take is an ocean trip." Wagg—"Yes, an outing for the inner man as well."

Foley Kidney Pills

Tonic in quality and action, quick in results. For backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness urinary irregularities and rheumatism. Holton Drug Co.

Only a rich man can afford to dress as though he didn't have one cent to rub against another.

Staggers Skeptics.

That a clean, nice, fragrant compound like Bucklen's Arnica Salve will instantly relieve a bad burn, cut, scald, wound or piles, staggers skeptics. But great cures prove its a wonderful healer of the worst sores, ulcers, boils, felons, eczema, skin eruptions, as also chapped hands, sprains and corns. Try it. 25c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Harduppe—"Here's that dollar I borrowed from you last week." Wigwag (overcome)—"What's the matter? Was it counterfeit?"

To keep your health sound; to avoid the ills of advancing years; to conserve your physical forces for a ripe and healthful old age, guard your kidneys by taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. Holton Drug Co.

Hook—"Do you suppose Guzzler was driven to drink?" Nye—"Only when he was too drunk to walk and get it."

Have You Ever Said: "I don't see how all the Magazines live?"—

Undoubtedly you have. Probably you have often stood before some news stand and wondered what magazines to buy. There are a lot of magazines. Most of them are mighty good and most of them live because they are good

But there's one magazine that not only lives but GROWS. There are fifteen or more good reasons for this in every issue. These reasons are its "unbeatable" features—the special articles obtained at enormous cost—the best fiction in the world—and its powerful, sincere editorial purpose.

The September number for example: Every feature is a big one. It is actually stuffed with big, vital news—information that you ought to have, articles that explain things, stories that every member of your family will read with intense delight. Here are some of the extra good things:

Splendid Fiction. Stories—fine ones—by Arthur Stringer Alice Brown, Mary Heaton Vorse, George Fitch and John Fleming Wilson.

"The Tooth Tinkers"—An account by Roy L. McCardell of "Painless Parkers" and their swindles.

"The Czar of Footwear"—Startling facts—all brand new—about the Shoe Machinery Trust, by Judson C. Welliver.

"In Reno Riotous"—A great story of the Johnson-Jeffries fight, by Harris Merton Lyon, filled with personality, crowded with local color, and illustrated just right.

The magazine that not only lives but grows is the magazine that is giving to the country "Peary's Own Story," a $50,000 feature; it is the magazine that is publishing the first English translation in America of M. Rostand's world famous drama "Chantecler." It is "the Best Magazine in America" and it is called
